Massacre by Utes. Leadville Democrat.

Mr. Blake Burton, who since last summer had run the French bakery, near the corner The population of it Lake City is of Harrison and Jefferson avenues, left Leadville, April last, with a party of companions for the purpose of prospecting in the Ute reservation. Since his departure nothing had been hear! from him until a letter, received by his friends in Leadville, Friday evening last, brought intelligence of his capture by the Ute Indians on the borders of the reservation, and of the foul massacre of the other prospectors. In the interim of silence his friends entertained the greatest anxiety for his safety, and were greatly relieved to learn that he is still living, though his life is held at the mercy of the hostile savages. The let-ter is in Burton's handwriting, and is traced with a pencil on an oblong piece of the roughest kind of brown paper.

It is addressed to Miss Jennie Ferguson, box 2,483, Leadville, Colorade. The Ferguson family live on the corner of Hemlock and Tenth streets. Mrs. Ferguson was a partner of Mr. Burton in the bakery business. Mr. Burton used all available strategy in endeavunions.
